New website launch editor note April 2011

I have waited a long time to re-do my look and feel of The Refirement Network website. The company website is the window to the world about who you are and what you do. It takes time, thought and money to reflect this. This month we share with you our new “look and feel”. Please browse through the different areas so that you are aware of all the offerings available. Please share with friends and colleagues as well.

During this past month, I have also helped launch The Eureka Foundation. The vision is to help the parents in South Africa to understand their role as primary educator of their 0-6 year old child and to ensure that through play and time that they give their child the opportunity to reach their full potential. 80% of the brain is developed before 6 and the parent holds the “future” of their child in their hands. There are some wonderful opportunities to become involved in this project as a business owner or trainer. Please see attached article for more details.

Finding work and re-defining what and how you do this is a major challenge for many baby boomers. A year back I designed a workshop called “Moving from work 1.0 to 2.0 and navigating your journey” This workshop will help you understand the challenges and opportunities for finding and designing work in the second half of life. I will be holding a public workshop on Saturday 21 May at Community Ministries, Muldersdrift. Please complete the event booking form if you want to attend. The price will be R200 per person or R300 per couple. (This double rate also applies to 2 friends attending and booking together) The workshop will be from 10h00 till 12h30 and will include refreshments . Booking and payment essential.

There are many places now connected to the website where you can personally connect and share.

Do you have a personal bucket list? Seeing Neil Diamond was on my list and it was wonderful to see him live while in South Africa this past month. I have designed a new workshop called MY BUCKET LIST. It takes individuals on a journey to ensure that their lives are in order, balanced and connected to those that matter most. Please feel free to connect with me if this is of interest to you and your team.

May this time over the Easter break be one filled with reflection and grace,

Blessings
